GADSL Declaration

May 30, 2014

The Global Automotive Declarable Substance List (GADSL) is part of a voluntary program by automotive manufacturers to facilitate communication and exchange of information regarding the use of certain substances in automobile parts.

Custom Resins, Inc. is a manufacturer of Nylene brand nylon (polyamide) polymer resin and other polymer resins. None of our resins are manufactured with any of the substances listed in the GADSL list (per Revision 2014-04-01) and are not know to, nor expected to, contain any of the substances on the GADSL list.

Since these substances are not expected to be present in any of our products, we do not test for their presence

For further information, please contact our Customer Service Department at 973-694-4141.
